Fun Christmas Safety Precautions

Fire Safety "Don't Roast the House Like Chestnuts"

- Water your tree so it doesn't turn into a giant holiday torch.
- Keep candles away from curtains, pets, kids... basically anything flammable.
- Check your lights—if they look sketchy, they probably are.
- Turn off decorations before bed. Your house doesn't need to party all night.

Electrical Safety "Don't Be a Human Christmas Sparkler"

- Don't plug 57 things into one outlet. You're decorating for Christmas, not summoning lightning.
- Outdoor lights go outside. Indoor lights go inside. They're not interchangeable roommates.
- No extension cords under rugs—unless you like surprise fireworks.

Child/Pet Safety "Tiny Humans/Furry Agents of Chaos"

- Keep breakable ornaments up high. Cats see them as batting practice.
- Avoid tinsel if you have pets—dogs think it's spaghetti... it is not.
- Batteries, small toys, and tiny decorations = choking hazards for both kids and curious pets.

Food Safety "Protect the Feast"

- Don't leave food out too long unless you want to start your own bacteria farm.
- Cook meat thoroughly—no one wants to experience "The Revenge of the Undercooked Turkey."
- Wash hands often... especially after touching raw poultry or sticky candy canes.

Travel Safety "Sleigh Responsibly"

- Don't drink and sleigh—use a designated driver.
- Give yourself extra time. Santa can teleport; we cannot.
- Keep an emergency kit in the car just in case winter decides to be dramatic.

General Safety "Holiday Logic"

- Lift heavy items with your legs, not your back—save the back pain for wrapping presents at 2 a.m.
- Don't climb wobbly chairs to hang decorations. Gravity always wins.
- Keep floors clear. Tripping over wrapping paper is not a fun holiday memory
